Population Research Institute is an international non-profit organization which works to end coercive population control, and fight the myth of overpopulation which fuels it. In addition, PRI promotes pro-natal and pro-family attitudes, laws and policies worldwide.

Founded in 1989 by Fr. Paul Marx, O.S.B., a pioneer in the worldwide pro-life movement, PRI pursues the agenda common to all truly pro-life organizations: against abortion, against euthanasia, in favor of traditional marriage, against artificial contraception, and in favor of family-friendly societies and economies.

These high-dollar donors are educated, well-read, traditional, and mostly Catholic. They are patriotic Americans who are committed pro-lifers and also conservative on political, economic and social issues. This list is a must test for Catholic Fundraisers, Publication/Book offers that reflect traditional Catholic teaching, and Conservative Political offers.
